LAS PULGAS DRAIN JOB IS PASSED

$36,953 Project for Storm Sewer Gets Board Approval

LABOR BENEFITS

Smaller Enterprise At Las Lomitas Is Also O.K.'d

Costing $36,953 and providing for 6000 man days of common labor, the reinforced concrete box storm water conduit to be constructed along the Alameda de Las Pulgas was approved by the board of supervisors Monday.

The project was submitted by Supervisor John W. Poole and County Surveyor James S. James to Chairman Sam D. Merk's citizens' relief bonds committee and approved.

The conduit will be laid in the area southwest of Atherton and will start at the intersection of Avy avenue and the Alameda de las Pulgas; thence northwesterly along the Alameda to Oak avenue; thence northeasterly along Oak avenue and Camino de las Cerros to a point opposite the line dividing lots 24 and 25 in the Linda Vista tract; thence in a general northerly direction over an easement to the main drainage ditch commonly known as Atherton creek.

Material on the project will cost $13,169.91, and labor, $23,784.

The work was ordered by motion of Supervisor Rosalie Brown, seconded by Supervisor C. V. Thompson.

Another project is the building of a sewage disposal ditch at the Las Lomitas school to cost $240 for labor and to provide 60 days of work. It was submitted by Dorothy P. Canning, clerk of the Las Lomitas School Board, and was approved.

Truck Hauling Big Still is Seized Here

Redwood City police seized a 1000-gallon still on a truck being driven through the city Wednesday night by Lorenzo Marcheschi, 28, of Half Moon Bay.

Marcheschi was booked by Redwood City police and turned over to the federal prohibition department for prosecution. Officers J. A. Snider and E. G. Fogarty made the seizure.

The truck was proceeding south on El Camino Real about 9:30 o'clock at the time.

$27,385 Lawsuit Sequel to Death Of East P.A. Girl

Death of Miss Ruth Wickstrom, 22, of 668 Almond street, East Palo Alto, in an automobile accident 10 days ago today resulted in the filing here of a $27,385 damage suit.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Julia Wickstrom, East Palo widow, filed the action, naming Mrs. Lois Lennox, 41, of 1485 Byron street, Palo Alto, as defendant.

Mrs. Lennox drove one car in the accident and Mrs. Wickstrom's son, Edwin, 20, drove the other. Edwin was not hurt, but his sister incurred a fracture of the skull and other injuries which caused her death 24 hours later in the Palo Alto Hospital.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Clarke avenue and Bayshore boulevard on February 17, this year.

Frank Lee Crist is plaintiff's attorney.

Anti-Handbill Ordinance in S. S. F. Upheld

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—South San Francisco's anti-handbill ordinance won a victory today when Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure threw out the case in San Francisco.

The argument was on a temporary injunction granted to the San Francisco Shopping News last April. The case was submitted to Judge St. Sure January 16, and was dismissed on motion of the city, represented by City Attorney John W. Coleberd.

If the Shopping News desires to test the matter further, it will be necessary to appeal from Judge St. Sure's ruling.

Jefferson Avenue Site Picked By Government for City's New $103,500 Postoffice Building

Weeks of anxious waiting for the treasury department in Washington to decide where to place the new Redwood City postoffice came to an end Tuesday with the announcement that the Flynn-Muller-McGarvey-Poole site on Jefferson avenue, between Broadway and Middlefield road, had been selected.

The United Press brought the word from Washington Tuesday, stating that the federal government had agreed to pay $17,500 for the site.

This leaves $86,000 for the building as the total cost of the project has been set at $103,500.

The site has a frontage of 200 feet on the east side of Jefferson avenue and a depth of 185 feet. It includes 20 feet of property taken off the city's civic center site, which was donated to the government; the old Cook residence and adjoining property for a distance of 150 feet, and 30 feet of property on the Poole holdings.

Daniel Flynn, county assessor; Carl Muller, Main street tailor, and H. D. McGarvey, retired, own the Cook property, which they acquired about seven years ago.

Affects Poole Home

The selection of 30 feet of property on the Poole holdings means the removal of the old John W. Poole home, occupied by the supervisor and Mrs. Poole for the past 30 years since their marriage, and for 10 years before that by Mr. Poole.

Mr. and Mrs. Poole were deeply affected when The Tribune carried word to them that the government had selected that particular site. They regretted giving up the site which has been their home for so many years, but did so in the interest of civic development.

The Pooles will be forced to remove their house from the present site because the 30 feet taken by the government takes in half of the home. Mr. Poole has approximately 145 feet of frontage remaining on Jefferson avenue toward the Broadway side of his property.

The site, while costing the government only $17,500, will actually bring the owners about $20,500. The Pooles will be paid approximately $3,000 for the 20 feet they are giving up, in addition to the $17,500 which will go to Flynn, Muller and McGarvey. The additional money will be secured by subscription from interested property owners.

$97.23 Per Front Foot

The $17,500 price secured by the Flynn-Poole site brought a price of $97.23 per front foot.

Five final sites were before the federal government for selection out of 21 offered during November.

These included the Flynn-Poole site, which was Number 1 in Inspector George Rolfe's report after his visit here on November 21; the vacant corner at Main street and Broadway opposite the First National Bank, offered for $40,000 originally; the Genochio property two blocks east on Broadway at Spring and Maple streets, $17,000; the former Mt. Carmel Parochial School, bounded by Fuller, Warren, Arguello and Brewster, for which $25,000 was asked, and the Upper Broadway site at the east side of California street between Broadway and Montgomery streets, $20,000.

Strong efforts were put forth in behalf of the Broadway-Main and Upper Broadway corners, and the government is believed to have compromised on the Poole-Flynn property because of its central location. Wires in behalf of this site were also dispatched to Washington.

Thirty days will be required by the government in searching the title and getting the land in shape for start of construction. The land must be cleared at the owners' expense.

Another 30 to 45 days will be required to select the architects and to draft the plans. It is not believed the work will get started before July 1 at the earliest.

San Rafael Site

The treasury also announced that the new San Rafael postoffice would be located at the northeast corner of "D" and Third streets. The property was offered for $10,000 by Jacob Albert.

Pedro Point Price Dispute Under Appeal

Directors of the Ocean Shore highway project today voted to apply for a rehearing on the appellate court's ruling approving a price of $112,000 set for the 5.2 miles of right of way at Pedro Point, this county, after they could not agree to pay this price.

The superior court of San Mateo county, with Judge Maurice Dooling of San Benito county, presiding, set the price, which was upheld by the higher court.

Highway directors, who include Chairman Manuel Francis of Half Moon Bay, contend that the court, in setting the price, had considered the potential instead of the actual value of the property.

Francis, however, has been willing to pay the higher price in order to get the project started.

Victims of Auto Accident Suing In County Court

Edward J. Twohig, 20, through his father, Thomas, has filed here suit for $5,050 damages for injuries to his nose and other parts of the body in a Colma automobile accident on December 27. In the same suit, Robert Walsh asked $5,000 for a dislocated shoulder and eye injury.

Both men name Jerry S. McEntee, Andy Wood and two others as defendants. Wood owned and McEntee drove the car blamed by the plaintiffs for their injuries. It is charged that McEntee parked the car on the east lane of traffic on El Camino Real in Colma without lights.

Ross & Ross and Oliva & Coleman represent the plaintiffs.

February Fire Loss $325, Dep't Report

There were two fire alarms last month, according to the monthly report of Fire Chief Mary Ryan. Both were for buildings, and the estimated loss was $325. An average of 23 volunteer firemen responded per alarm.

License Fees Raise $1027 For Belmont

BELMONT, Mar. 2.—Belmont's treasury has been enriched $1,027, from city license fees collected by Chief of Police Fred Johnson Jr. for the months of January and February, according to the chief's report last evening at a city council meeting.

Chief Johnson also reported that he has erected signs on O'Neal and Sixth avenues prohibiting the dumping of debris.

A permit for the operation of a smoke and magazine shop on El Camino Real near Ralston boulevard was granted to R. L. Doty.

In answer from a communication from Louis A. Barrett, clerk of the school board, asking the city council to co-operate with the board in using the electric lights in the school auditorium more economically, City Clerk Ray G. Kelly was appointed a committee of one to carry out the suggestion of the board.

The bills for lighting in the auditorium have fallen heavily on the school funds.

E. L. Ott, representative of the Richfield Oil Company, applied for a permit for the distribution of oil and gasoline from a plant to be erected on the Bayshore highway in the vicinity of Ralston boulevard. Three 10,000 gallon tanks are to be erected. The permit was granted.

City Engineer W. W. Hendricks gave a report of the improvement work done thus far through the county relief program.

Queer Request Made in Will of Woman in S. M.

Mrs. Winona Pope, who died in San Mateo on February 18, left a request in her will that a three-inch pin be thrust through her heart at her death, that the body be dissected and that it then be cremated.

This came to light today with the filing of her will here by her son, Philip S. Pope, 626 South Fremont street, San Mateo. The estate, it is estimated, will not exceed $10,000.

Kirkbride, Wilson & Brooks of San Mateo filed the will.

LIVESTOCK BLD'G HELP IS REFUSED

Supervisors Follow Advice Given By Dist. Att'y

PLEDGE ILLEGAL

Counsel for District Says State Fund At Stake

Standing on the advice of District Attorney Edmund Scott that the supervisors could not incur a debt this year to be paid for out of next year's budget, the San Mateo county board monday refused to come to the financial aid of the proposed $1,250,000 livestock and exposition building in Visitacion Valley.

Attorney C. H. Sooy of San Francisco, president of Agriculture District 1-A, formed by San Francisco and San Mateo counties to finance the project, asked the board to give him a letter pledging to place $15,000 in next year's budget.

Scott advised the board, however, that the pledge could not be legally made. Sooy admitted this was true, but said he would take a chance on his ability to borrow the $15,000 at this time on the strength of the supervisors' letter.

The money, Sooy said, would be used to buy 15 acres at $1,000 per acre of the proposed 100-acre site.

This step, he said, would give the state legislature the assurance that San Mateo county favored the project, and by this aussurance, Sooy said he believed the $250,000 voted two years ago toward the project by the state could be saved.

Sooy revealed that a bill is now before the legislature proposing to divert this $25s,d00 to the general fund.

He said that his directors will make a fight to retain this money despite the local board's reluctance to assist him financially at this time.

Sooy also revealed plans to go ahead with a request that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation lend San Mateo-San Francisco counties $1,250,000 to finance the project. This money, he said, could be borrowed at a negligible rate of interest.

San Francisco, he said, has failed to raise the proposed $350,000 contribution from that city. It was in a last-minute appeal that he brought the matter to the local board's attention.

In defense of his plan, Sooy cited that the Sunnyvale air base, the Fleishhacker pool and other projects were assured through this method of pledge.

Fire Proves to Be Reflection And Red Paint

A railroad engineer reported to a crossing guard at 9:10 Saturday night that the south end of the freight depot here was on fire.

The fire department was notified, and Capt. Tony Prusch and I. C. Drathman went to investigate. They found that the reflection of an electric sign on some red paint created an illusion of fire.

SPRING OPENING IN R.C. STORES MARCH 16

Local Banks Sound, Say Authorities

Merchants to Accept Checks During Period

Safety of funds on deposit in the three Redwood City banks is assured instead of being endangered by the three-day banking holiday which Governor Rolph Jr. declared effective today.

This assurance comes from Edward T. Harrison, vice-president and cashier of the First National Bank and the San Mateo County Bank, and J. Elmer Morrish, manager of the Bank of America branch.

Interviewed by The Tribune, the two bankers declared:

"Redwood City banks are in such a state of soundness that they could remain open throughout the holiday. The governor's order, however, blankets the entire state and we are glad to co-operate here in any measure designed to protect depositors over all of California.

"The banks here are unusually liquid, and were only substantial communities like this involved, the holiday order would be entirely unnecessary."

Word of the bank holiday came as a complete surprise to the local bankers.

MERCHANTS WILL ACCEPT CHECKS DURING CRISIS

At a meeting of the merchant's division of the chamber of commerce held Thursday afternoon, it was agreed that the local merchants will accept checks from responsible people during the bank moratorium for the amount of the purchases. The meeting was attended by about 15 representative merchants.

Burglars Flee, Leave Tools in Palo Alto Store

PALO ALTO, Feb. 27.—Frightened away by the unexpected appearance of the store manager, burglars fled from the Piggly-Wiggly store at 335 University avenue last night, and left behind an elaborate collection of burglary tools and safe cracking devices.

On his way home from a day at Santa Cruz, Henry P. Curren, store manager, stopped at the store at 10:30 last night. As he opened the door, he heard a noise in the rear, and ran to investigate. He found a door to the cold storage room forced open. On the floor was a suitcase containing tools. There was a crowbar on a meat block, and 200 feet of wire, rigged up with a buzzer, to be used as a signal by the lookout. A bar of soap was found, leading police to believe the burglars planned to use nitroglycerine to crack the safe, which contained $3,100.

McCarthy Will Is Put on File Here

On Tuesday James T. O'Keefe filed the last will of Nellie C. McCarthy who died at San Mateo on February 23. He also filed the petition for letters testamentary upon the estate which exceeds the sum of $10,000.

Mrs. McCarthy's husband established the first funeral parlors in San Mateo many years ago. After his death she continued the business with considerable success.

No Cause for Alarm

[EDITORIAL]

Entirely unwarranted is any feeling or show of alarm over the three-day banking holiday declared Wednesday night by Governor Rolph.

Bank managers here are emphatic in their assurance that the local institutions could reopen at once for the regular run of business and could ignore the governor's proclamation were they so minded.

But it would not be the wise thing to do. It would put the local institutions to unnecessary strain not called for in ordinary times. Banks must protect their depositors to the fullest, and with this in mind, local banks act sanely in doing what the bulk of the institutions in the state are doing—closing their doors until legislation can be passed which will make sounder the soundest of banks. That is the sole purpose of the holiday.

Governor Rolph's action is not novel, but follows what many other states less fortunate than California have found necessary. It was the groundless fear bred by reports from other states that caused the governor to act before the wave of withdrawals reached California.

Legislation will undoubtedly be passed in the next day or so which will empower banks to limit withdrawals as has been done in other states to keep the banks from meeting unusually severe demands.

Cool, common sense must rule in this hour. Instead of being cause for alarm, the holiday should be welcomed by every depositor. It is his assurance that the fullest effort is being put forth to guard every single dollar.

DESIRABILITY OF AMENDING CITY CHARTER MARCH 28TH SEEN IN WATER DEPARTMENT

PUBLICLY OWNED UTILITY PROFITS CAN HELP TO REDUCE TAXES

The special city election March 28 will enable citizens to correct a weakness in the city charter relative to the use of utility profits.

A survey just completed of practically all of the municipally owned water supply systems comparable to Redwood City's, in this state, indicates that it is common practice for systems having a gross revenue similar to that here to transfer from surplus earnings to the general fund for tax reduction purposes amounts varying from 10 to 25 per cent of the annual gross earnings.

In addition, there are many instances where needed public improvements have been made from excess earnings that would otherwise have to be paid for by taxation.

While section 45 of the charter in its present form prohibits the practice above by requiring the city to carry idle cash on hand to the extent of 15 per cent of the book value of any utility (in this case $75,000) before any funds can be transferred into the general fund for tax reduction purposes or invested in state, county or municipal bonds whereby some revenue may be realized on surplus earnings, it is hoped that this will be corrected at the election March 28.

Asked to comment upon the whole picture, City Manager E. A. Rolison said:

"Our records show that the initial investment for local water supply purposes was made by bond issue in the year 1900 in the amount of $8,000. In 1904 an additional bond issue was voted for the sum of $100,000 for street and water works improvements, $35,000 of which was used for the laying of distribution mains and other improvements to the water department. In 1923 a third bond issue was voted for the sum of $30,000 for the purchase of the Redwood Water Co. and in 1925, $30,000 was voted for the construction of an additional reservoir, making a total of $103,000 bonds voted for water supply and distribution purposes.

"As the present book value represents an investment of approximately $500,000, it is evident that by far the major part of this amount or approximately $400,000 has been built out of surplus earnings over a period of some 20 odd years.

Earnings Growing

"The gross earnings of the above utility have gradually grown until at the present they reach a total slightly in excess of $90,000 per annum and the net earnings to date have been expended for additions and betterments to the plant. These capital expenditures have included the construction of new reservoirs, the laying of cast iron transmission and distribution mains together with the constant development of new wells to replace those that had to be abandoned either for excessive salt content or for lack of supply due to the constant lowering of the water table. As a matter of fact only one of the wells being used at the time of the purchase of the Redwood Water Company is still functioning, the water table having receded from the surface in some cases to a point 100 feet or more below the ground level. In addition to this, several wells have had to be abandoned because of the infiltration of salt water.

The Rate Question

"It is the uncertainty of supply with reference to both quantity and quality that prevents the reduction of rates as we are compelled to maintain a sufficient revenue to insure our supply by the constant development of new wells when needed or suffer the penalty of purchasing water from the San Francisco Water Department at rates higher than our retail rates to local consumers. This is made necessary due to the fact that no depreciation reserve has been set up out of surplus in the past for this purpose.

"While it is conceded that Hetch-Hetchy will be our ultimate source of supply on account of both available quantity and superior quality, excessive rates make the present use of this source prohibitive and the uncertainty of the future reduction of charges do not justify a reduction of rates on this theory.

"Therefore, it is to be seen that while we have improved our distribution facilities by the construction of new reservoirs giving us ample storage capacity for distribution purposes, and while we have installed sufficient cast iron mains to place our distribution system in a very satisfactory operating condition generally we still have with us the uncertainty of supply which governs the financial stability of the system and against which we must guard in order to insure water consumers constant and economical service.

"However, while the unknown quantities above enumerated would seem to prohibit the reduction of rates for any given period, it would, I believe, be possible now that we have our major capital outlays taken care of, to divert some of the surplus earnings, not needed for further extensions, to the general fund for tax reduction purposes so long as we make sure that this utility continues to operate on a self-sustaining basis.'

Wilsey-Schwerin Libel Suit Heard By Judge Swart

Arguments in the $100,000 libel suit filed by City Manager Earl P. Wilsey of San Mateo against R. P. Schwerin, wealthy San Mateo resident, over remarks assertedly made by Schwerin in which he said that the city manager "collects his share of garbage fees," were heard today by Superior Judge Franklin Swart.

Judge Swart indicated that he would dismiss the action. Schwerin was sued last September 2 after making the remarks before a San Mateo taxpayers' gathering. The defendant apologized after the libel action was filed, and said he meant the "dump manager" and not the "city manager." Wilsey, however, let the suit stand.

'Fix Up' Idea Will Be Part Of Campaign

Fashion Show Planned For Afternoon of Big Event

The next outstanding event on the retail calendar of Redwood City will be the merchants' united Spring opening and fix-up campaign.

Thursday, March 16, is the date.

The event was planned at a well attended meeting of the chamber of commerce retail division Wednesday night.

A committee headed by Charles Nelson, and including Clarence Choate, D. P. Washburn, W. D. Ryan and George McQueen, was appointed to handle the affair.

Stores selling ready-to-wear things will hold a fashion show from 3 to 4 p. m. with live models in the windows. Other stores may also use living models in connection with the demonstration of their wares.

The fix-up idea stresses the desirability of repairing and improving the appearance of homes, automobiles, gardens and other things.

Service clubs, lodges and other organizations will be invited to join the fix-up campaign.

The Sequoia high school band will be invited to play and the day will be advertised throughout the peninsula.

Another Bond Issue for Co. Jobless Seen

Capt. Edward Macauley, director of unemployment relief in San Mateo county, informed the board of supervisors monday that he believed the entire $350,000 relief bond issue would be necessary during the current year, and that another issue must be placed before the voters next fall.

Macauley told the board that the number of unemployed and families in need had increased 33 per cent during the past three months.

It was hoped, he said, to have the bond issue last 12 months, all told, but that the present outlook was for not more than 10 months of relief before the fund would be exhausted.

The county has sold only $112,000 worth of the bonds. The bonds were voted last November.

Macauley's request that the monthly relief fund of $28,000 be increased to whatever figure will be necessary to meet the situation was granted by the board.

Spirited Contest For Water Board Seen in Belmont

BELMONT, Feb. 27.—With the hats of City Councilmen Clifford C. Lussier, Louis C. Vannier and James P. Halloran in the ring for seats on the Belmont county water board everything indicates a spirited election on March 28.

There are five seats to be filled with seven in the race. The election will be held at the Belmont public school.

Errett Sackett, Waldo J. Marra and Lawrence A. Elsener, present water board directors, filed their papers for re-election. Joseph Heartsner, president of the board, did not seek re-election.

Alexander Morrison, former city councilman, is running independently.

C. J. Messner, the fourth member on the city council, did not file his papers for a place on the board. Mayor Chris L. Jordan already is an ex-officio member of the board.

County Ignored

There must be some expert politicians down in Orange County who know how to go after political plums. Excepting Los Angeles and San Francisco, Orange County has received more appointments than any other county in the state. Mr. Brock, who took Dudley Moulton's place as head of the agricultural department, comes from there. The county has had at least ten or twelve major appointments under the Rolph administration.

The politicians there ought to take San Mateo County into their confidence and tell it how it is done. Orange County was against the governor at the primary election while San Mateo gave him a pronounced majority, and it was one of the fourteen counties that did so. The county has received no recognition from Mr. Rolph thus far. Mr. Rolph always recognizes his friends and no doubt in due time he will give the county a major position.

Needs Support

President Roosevelt should have the cooperation and support of every citizen. He is taking the reins of government at a very trying time when he needs all the help he can get in his endeavor to bring back prosperity. Partisan feeling should be buried for the present. Roosevelt has a big job in front of him, a giant task and he must be backed by the people and aided in his tremendous work of recovery. He has both houses with him, so he will not be hampered with his program. Much is expected of the new president, perhaps too much, but the people are looking for big things. Let us hope they won't be disappointed.

Precarious Honor

The president's sweeping powers for reorganization of the federal government which will be entrusted to Roosevelt after his inauguration March 4 were tucked on the postoffice appropriation bill. Does that constitute the necessary stamp of approval? Or is it just cancellation of an unpleasant task congress hasn't the courage to perform?

Stanford Park is one of the bright spots in the county in the building line. Over 25 houses have been erected there within the past six months. That locality will be solidly built up.

The traffic laws are being rigidly enforced by Chief Love and his assistants. Speeders are caught and fined. This is as it should be for the protection of the traveling public.

The mammoth oak that for ages stood to the rear of the freight depot was cut down recently by the Southern Pacific Company. The tree sheltered the itinerants who spread their blankets beneath it and slept, dreaming of other and happier days. "Sorrows crowning sorrow is the thought of better days."

Father Burke's mother was operated upon in San Francisco last week. She is recovering nicely and will soon be convalescent. This will be glad news to the many friends of Father Burke.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Allen of Bakersfield and their little daughter, Frankie, passed the week-end in Menlo Park with Mrs. Allen's sister-in-law, Mrs. Albert E. Sigal. They were on their way home after a month in Texas.

Mrs. Allen was one of the guests Friday afternoon when Mrs. Sigal entertained a bridge club to which she belongs. Others present were Mrs. J. D. Bowersock, Mrs. W. A. Heiman, Mr. Tom Dick, Mrs. John H. Talbot, Mrs. E. S. Piersol, Mrs. Paul D. Brett, Mrs. R. H. Houston and Mrs. Mary Van Morick. Mrs. Bowersock is from San Francisco. The other guests were all Burlingame friends.

Mrs. Mona Christensen of 117 Pope street left Tuesday for Sacramento to attend sessions of the legislature.

Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald, sister of Martin McCarthy of Menlo Park, died in San Francisco yesterday after a long illness. She lived in Menlo Park for many years.

The stork has made his twentieth visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Turner of Ozark, Ark.

AUTOMATIC WATER HEATERS
Mr. Boss"....

"A grand idea," replies Mr. Boss, "the old heater is too slow. Funny we put up with it so long."

"Just the thing too," adds Mrs. Boss, "to get the dishes and the washing done quicker."

"We'll call it our Spring Investment," adds Mr. Boss with finality.

HAS your present water heater slowed down with old age and become wasteful? Does more heat from your water heater and tank go toward heating the kitchen and basement than goes toward heating water? Perhaps a new Automatic Water Heater would actually save you money.

An Automatic heats water cheaper per gallon than any other method of heating water in the home. Just as new gas ranges with insulated ovens and automatic heat control are better built, are cheaper to operate, do the job they were made for better, so too, is the new Automatic Water Heater better in all respects. Investigate the new Automatic Water Heaters carefully. Consider their construction. The outer casing is a steel shell, enamelled in kitchen colors, and smooth as porcelain. Then comes a thick blanket of insulating wool completely covering the water storage tank within. At the base of the storage tank is the automatically controlled gas burner. It starts itself. It stops itself. The insulated tank keeps the hot water stored ready for instant service at the turn of a faucet.

The Automatic costs 50% less than water heaters rendering similar service only a few years ago. Right now, too, you can purchase an Automatic for as little as $4.85 down and as little as $3.85 a month. This is for complete installation. Investigate this low-cost, hot water service for your home today.

LEGION'S AMERICANISM MEET ATTENDED BY CROWD OF 300

At one of the largest meetings of the year presided over Monday night by Comm. Emmett Donnelly, American Legion Post, No. 105, and its auxiliary unit entertained visiting legionnaires and guests with an Americanism program in Veterans' Hall.

The chief speaker was Philip Solon, prominent attorney of Oakland, who gave some enlightening facts regarding the forces back of the activities of the National Economy League. In his talk, Mr. Solon called upon his comrades of the legion to combat the influences at work throughout the country in belittling the World War veteran and his claims for consideration. These influences, he said, are shielding the war profiteers and others of great wealth whose incomes are affected by veterans' benefits, and who are now urging that the support of the war disabled be shifted to states, counties and municipalities, instead of through federal aid.

Mr. Solon further urged upon his audience the responsibility of every citizen to consider the issues before the voters and to use the most effective means in their power, the ballot, to establish sound, democratic government.

Nearly 300 were present, including Mayor William Dusel, Councilman Robert Jones, T. Louis Chess, commander of the county council of the legion; Mrs. Florence Chess, district president of the legion auxiliary; Mrs. E. Thompson, president of Mountain View auxiliary; Mrs. A. Brosseau, president of Belmont auxiliary; Mrs. Ida Thompson, president of George S. Evans Relief Corps; Donald Sevier, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post of Redwood City; Phil Blanchard, commander of Menlo Park post; Mrs. Florence Donnelly, president of Redwood City legion auxiliary.

One of the features of the evening was the initiation of nine candidates into the post by its newly organized degree team, composed of Glenn Hall, commander; Fred Crumb, George Mulcady, Thomas Vernall, William Libby, Roger Walsh, Joseph Faso, Floyd Granger, Ray S. Hayes, William Leist and S. A. Chamberlain, Richard Aragon, R. C. Chandler, Mrs. May Fitzgerald, Mrs. Mary Hayes and Mrs. Anna Bennett-Robb.

The following were initiated: C. M. Becker, V. J. Chiappelone, Charles Helin, Orville Lynes, R. C. Lowrey, L. J. Moreland, A. L. Palmtag, Martin Reese and Richard Aragon.

Following the initiation, D. Fred Gatchel, Americanism chairman of Redwood City post, gave a talk on the responsibilities of every citizen in the development of proper community life.

T. Louis Chess followed with a brief talk, congratulating the post on its contribution to community service.

Mrs. Ruth Dougherty, entertainment chairman of the auxiliary, in collaboration with Mrs. James De Benedetti, Americanism chairman of the unit, presented a short program by children of members, Betty Hall, "Boots" Dougherty, Beverly Berry, Louis Monroe and Doris Sampson.

"Mother's Version of the Cherry Tree Story," written by Blanche Cumming, was presented by Marion Cumming in the part of the mother and Nell Taylor as the 10-year-old George. This was followed by a reading by Mrs. S. A. Chamberlain, "The Unusual Man." Legionnaire Wilbur Doxsee and his legion quartet sang three numbers, with Mrs. Wilbur Doxsee at the piano.

Following the formal closing of the meeting, refreshments were served and music for dancing was furnished by the American Legion orchestra.

Care of Pets is Goal of Humane Society Benefit

Adequate care for pets of needy children in the community. That is the goal of the local humane society in sponsoring the benefit musicale, dancing, and dramatic entertainment to be given by 100 Sequoia students at the high school auditorium Friday night at 8:15 o'clock.

At the present time many needy children are unable to give their pets proper medical care because the costs are prohibitive. Realizing the importance of a pet to a child, members of the society, numbering approximately 150 in and about Redwood City, are hoping to raise sufficient funds to extend their services to those who otherwise would be unable to receive them.

"Up to the present time the work of the humane society has been supported by the dollar-a-year dues from each member," states Mrs. John E. Ryan, president of the organization. "We hope to be able to establish the group as an organization contributing real service to the community."

Activities of the humane society include taking care of any calls or complaints where stray animals have become a nuisance. These animals are collected, and an attempt is made to locate the owners. Care is given such pets up to the limit of the funds.

A pet show is arranged by the society yearly to promote interest in animals among young people; and to encourage proper care of pets, prizes are given for the best exhibits.

Officers of the society besides Mrs. Ryan are Mrs. J. E. Hoffman, vice president; Mrs. A. F. Anderson, secretary, and Mrs. G. G. Chapman, treasurer.

Tickets for the production are now on sale at 25 cents each at local drug stores. No seats are reserved.

Conference On April 7 At South S. F. Arranged

The first of a number of conferences of officers and directors of the various chambers of commerce of the county was held Tuesday evening in the San Mateo City Hall. Representatives were present from chambers of commerce of South San Francisco, Burlingame, San Mateo, San Carlos and Redwood City.

For some time officers of several of the chambers have felt that it would be a good thing to develop better understanding between their respective organizations. In most of the counties of California there is a county association of the local chambers of commerce which usually meets once per month to discuss matters of county-wide import.

Those present at the first meeting felt that it would be of value to the county and to the communities for the representatives of the chambers to get together from time to time and discuss matters which have relation to the peninsula as a whole.

Ray Spangler, secretary of the chamber of commerce of South San Francisco, extended an invitation to officers and directors of all chambers of commerce of the county to meet with them at dinner Friday, April 7, at 7 o'clock. This invitation was confirmed by Attorney J. W. Coleberd, president of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and was accepted by those present. Mr. Coleberd was appointed chairman for the next meeting. Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, served as chairman at the San Mateo meeting.

Invitations to the officers and directors of all chambers of commerce of the county will be mailed by the South San Francisco chamber prior to the next meeting. A definite program for the discussion of matters of county-wide interest will be arranged.

Among those attending the meeting last evening were the following: J. W. Coleberd, president, and Ray Spangler, secretary, South San Francisco; President Harris, Mrs. Van Bergen, secretary, and Directors Charles Buck, J. E. Bromfield and Mr. Cline of Burlingame; President Jones and Secretary Gilbert Keitle of San Mateo; President A. Murray Spooner and Director Smith, of Belmont; President Hiram B. Cook Jr. and Director Clark of San Carlos; President J. E. Morrish, Secretary Howard I. Wood, and Director Elmor E. B. Hinman of Redwood City.

Death Takes Kin of Old R.C. Family

Word reached here saturday of the sudden passing on February 7 in Chicago, Ill., of Chester Thurston, 46, member of a former pioneer family of Redwood City.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thurston and was born here, the family home being on Wilson street. His father in the early nineties conducted the old Grand Hotel that stood at the corner of Broadway and Main street, the present site of the First National Bank.

W. J. Plump of this city was a partner of Thurston in the hotel business. The hotel was destroyed by fire in one of the most spectacular blazes in the history of Redwood City.

Thurston had resided in Chicago for the past 25 years. About three years ago he and his wife visited Redwood City and were guests for several days of Mrs. Mamie Glennan at her camp in La Honda. Surviving are the widow and one brother, Julius Thurston.

Foreign Trade Vital to Calif.; Restrictive Policy Dangerous

Patriotic appeals to the American public to confine its trade at home, vigorously proposed in many quarters and doubtless motivated by sincere convictions that such a course would result in benefit to the country, have found some notable opposition among business leaders in California. The tenor of their argument on this controversial subject is extremely interesting because it comes from the front line trenches of California's commerce and industries.

Writing in the February issue of The California Banker just released, official publication of the California Bankers Association, R. V. Dewey, a member of the San Francisco importing and exporting firm of Otis, McAllister & Company, draws attention to the enormous stake which California has in the markets of the world and her interest in the continuation of normal trade relationships.

The title of Mr. Dewey's article is "California and the Foreign Market." Dr. Henry F. Grady, dean of the College of Commerce, University of California and trade adviser to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, also writes in this issue of the "Banker" on the subject of "The Relationship Between Tariffs, War Debts and Depreciated Currencies."

Would Destroy Business

Mr. Dewey cogently declares that drastic curtailment of California foreign trade would mean practically the destruction of two of her greatest classes of business—agriculture and shipping. To support this contention he recalls the basic fact, sometimes overlooked, that the welfare of this state is dependent primarily upon its agricultural prosperity, pointing out that two-thirds of California's wealth is derived from products of the soil. Mr. Dewey then goes on to say:

"Most of California's products are on an export basis, producing at all times surpluses which must find an export outlet if they are to be sold. We have 1,300,000 acres devoted to the raising of products which are now in the export class, compared with 233,000 acres producing products for which there is an adequate home market.

"It is quite beside the point to demand that our high standard of life be maintained by the protection of our domestic market which the domestic market cannot or will not consume the output. The surplus is forced into the cold of the world market in competition with products from which protection is sought . . ."

High Tariff Hit

In spite of this situation, however, California traditionally has stood for a high tariff and has been quite successful in making her influence felt at Washington. If only imports were affected justification might be found for a restrictive tariff. However, Dewey contends, this aim is not achieved where surpluses exist such as is normally the case with California's agricultural products. Since these surpluses must be sold in the world market at the world price the domestic market consequently will pay no more than the world price.

Unfortunately, not only is tariff protection for the domestic market not achieved as sought but the trade barriers raised in foreign countries as the result of this policy in the form of increased tariffs, foreign exchange disparities and restricted quotas have affected American exports adversely. California's agricultural exports, due to their high quality reputation, have maintained to date a remarkable preference in the world market but exporters are constantly forced to sacrifice price for tonnage to hold this position.

Other Effects

Another effect of tariff measures and movements for discrimination against foreign goods, whose result is to reduce imports, is to increase the rates on outward bound freight. It is also pointed out that the migration of American capital and plants to operate behind retaliatory trade walls of other nations results in less employment in this country and hence less domestic consumption of California's food products.

The solution advanced by the author is that we organize an international conference of the trading nations, the agenda of which would be the scrapping of trade barriers. Such action, he thinks, would be more far-reaching and more productive of real peace than a disarmament conference.

In regard to the special welfare of California Mr. Dewey concludes, ". . . California's interest lies not in a high degree of protection in our domestic market, but in open and expanding foreign markets. The necessity for removing causes for defensive or retaliatory measures on the part of our customers is paramount. Some method must be found to establish a basis of reciprocity if we are to re-establish the real value of California agricultural lands and to secure for California agriculture a living income."

Reckless Driving in Several Mishaps Reported

One fatality and several arrests for reckless driving marked the peninsula's week-end traffic Sunday.

James McDonald, 40, of 303 Orange avenue, South San Francisco, brother-in-law of former Mayor Albert Eschelbach, South San Francisco, and the second white child born in the city, died at 2:30 Sunday morning of automobile injuries.

McDonald was struck by the automobile of Roy Butcher, Wyoming man residing at the Lakeside Hotel, Oakland, as he attempted to cross the Bayshore highway at Randolph avenue, South San Francisco, shortly after midnight Saturday.

Death came in the South San Francisco Hospital of a compound fracture of the skull. McDonald, according to police, was hurled 50 feet by the impact. Butcher, it is reported, had turned out to pass another car and failed to see McDonald in time to avoid the collision.

Attilio Grampolini, 480 Greenwich street, San Francisco, a paint company employe, was cited for reckless driving and third lane driving Sunday by State Officer Frank Chevalier, after the motorist wrecked the officer's motorcycle.

Grampolini had been halted for third lane driving and after refusing to sign the citation, started up the car, striking the officer's motorcycle. He then was charged with reckless driving in addition. He was released on $100 bail.

George W. Kauffman, 43, cashier, of 633 Fourth avenue, San Francisco, was cited by Captain Paul Perussina of the state police with reckless driving after sheering off the left side of a machine driven by William Sunke, 85 Miller street, San Francisco.

The accident occurred between Lomita Park and Millbrae on El Camino Real Sunday night. No one was injured. Kauffman will appear at 2 p. m. Thursday before Justice of the Peace Edward Farrell. Captain Perussina reported that Kauffman "had been drinking."

Charles Mitchell, 23, San Francisco truck driver, was cited by State Officers Chester Kreiss and Louis Rinkel on the Skyline boulevard for reckless driving at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He was booked at the county jail for driving while intoxicated, but the charge was reduced to recklessness.

Mitchell was released on his own recognizance to appear before Justice of the Peace Percy Jackson in San Mateo at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Ed Dahlberg, 25, service station manager, of 355 O'Farrell street, San Francisco, and Gus Dahlberg, 29, salesman, were booked at the county jail Saturday night after they had been halted for defacing the highway by driving on a rim.

Faulty brake rods also caused cuts in the pavement, Captain Perussina, who with Officers Manfred Walzberg and Lloyd Minehan, brought the men in, reported. Perussina reported that a charge of recklessness may be placed against one of the men.

The pair was cited to appear at 2 p. m. Friday before Judge Jackson. They were halted near Belmont on the Bayshore highway.

Automobiles driven by Thomas Eastland Jr. and Charles O'Brien Jr. collided at 14th and Palm avenues, San Mateo, Sunday. Thomas Eastland Sr. and his son escaped injury, but Charles O'Brien Sr., riding with his son, was cut.

Palo Alto Pioneer Buried After Rites

PALO ALTO, Feb. 25.—Services were held today for Elias G. Compton, 99, pioneer who came to California in a covered wagon in 1850. He died yesterday morning in the Palo Alto Hospital after a short illness.

Born in Missouri in 1834, he came west at the age of 27. Arriving during the gold rush, he first engaged in mining near Placerville and later settled as a farmer in Mendocino county. For the last few years Compton had been living with his daughter, Mrs. Cora E. Wood. She is his only survivor.

Jail Bids to Open In S. F. March 29

Builders' proposals for the general contract and the electrical heating and plumbing installations for the new San Francisco county jail at the Sneath ranch west of San Bruno will be called March 29. Estimated cost of the combined jobs is approximately $550,000.

On March 8 the director of public works will open bids for the installation of a water supply to cost about $35,000. The water will be pumped from Lake San Andreas and the mains must be in before the general construction can start.
